Q. 15.	What distinguished the dominance of the Congress Party in India from the one-party dominance in other countries ? Explain.
Ans.	The dominance of the Congress Party in India is distinguished from the other countries in

	the following ways:- i) In India, democracy was not compromised by dominance of one party. ii) In India, multiparty system prevailed where as in other countries like China and Russia dominance of one party was due to one party system only. iii) In India, there was no military interference like the same in Myanmar and Egypt. iv) In India, dominance of the one party (Congress) was due to its own popularity which managed it to win elections after elections.	4x1=4
Q 16.	Examine the dramatic changes that took place in the party system in India during 1969 to 1977.
Ans.	The dramatic changes that took place in the party system in India during 1969 to 1977 are as follows:- (i) The factional rivalry between the Syndicate and Indira Gandhi came in the open in 1969 during Presidential election. She projected to split as an ideological divide between socialist and conservative factions of the congress party. (ii) The Congress party now identified itself with a particular ideology, claiming to be the only socialist and pro-poor party. (iii) Since 1969, the Congress party had started shedding its character as an umbrella party which accommodated leaders and workers of different ideological dispensations and view points. (iv) With the change in the nature of the Congress party, other opposition parties relied more and more on what is known in Indian politics as ‘non-Congressism’. They also realised the need to avoid a division of non-Congress votes in the election. Or any other relevant point.	4x1=4
Q 17.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: The smaller states in the alliances used the link to the superpowers for their own purposes. They got the promise of protection, weapons and economic aid against their local rivals, mostly regional neighbours with whom they had rivalries. The threatened to divide the entire world into two camps. This division happened first in Europe. Most countries of Western Europe sided with the US and those of Eastern Europe joined the Soviet camp. That is why, these were also called the ‘western’ and the ‘eastern’ alliances. (i) Name one organization each related to the ‘western’ and the ‘eastern’ alliances. (ii) Why were the smaller states interested in joining the super alliances? (iii) How did the ‘alliance system’ threaten to divide the world ?
Ans.	i) Organisation related to western alliances:- NATO Organisation related to eastern alliances:- Warsaw Pact ii) a) The smaller states in the alliances used the link to the superpowers to fulfil their own purposes.

	b) They got the promise of protection, weapons, and economic aid against their local rivals, mostly regional neighbours with whom they had rivalries. iii) Most countries of western Europe sided with the US and those of eastern Europe joined the Soviet camp. This tendency is an ample proof that the super powers threatened to divide the entire world into two camps.	1+2+2=5
Q 18.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: The lack of genuine international support for democratic rule in Pakistan has further encouraged the military to continue its dominance. The United States and other Western countries have encouraged the military's authoritarian rule in the past, for their own reasons. Given their fear of the threat of what they call 'global Islamic terrorism' and the apprehension that Pakistan's nuclear arsenal might fall into the hands of these terrorist groups, the military regime in Pakistan has been seen as the protector of Western interests in West Asia and South Asia. (i) What is meant by 'global Islamic terrorism' ? (ii) Why did Pakistan lack genuine international support for democratic rule ? (iii) Why was the military regime in Pakistan considered as the protector of Western interests in West Asia and South Asia ?
Ans.	(i) Global Islamic Terrorism is defined as a fear of threat by Islamic outfits funded by various Islamic Nations. (ii) The lack of genuine international support for democratic rule in Pakistan has further encouraged the military to continue its dominance. The United States and other Western countries have encouraged the military's authoritarian rule in the past, for their own reasons. (iii) There was apprehension that Pakistan's nuclear weapons might not go into the hands of the terrorist groups. Q 19.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: Critics of popular movement often argue that collective actions like strikes, sit-ins and rallies disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision-making and destabilise the routines of democracy. Such an argument invites a deeper question: why do these movements resort to such assertive forms of action ? We have seen that popular movements have raised legitimate demands of the people and have involved large scale participation of citizens. It should be noted that the groups mobilised by these movements are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society from marginal social groups. (i) Popular movements resort to which two types of assertive actions ? (ii) How far do you agree with the arguments given by the critics? (iii) Why are groups involved in popular movements mostly from marginal social groups ?
Ans.	i) Strikes, sit-ins, rallies and protests (any two)

ii) These assertive actions disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision making and destabilise the routines of democracy.

OR

They involve a gradual process of coming together of people with similar problems, similar demands and similar expectations.

iii) Marginal social groups who may be adversely affected by these policies get less and less attention from political parties as well as the media because they are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society.

- (ii) Why has a big tilt towards the public sector been shown in the cartoon?
- (iii) How did the over-emphasis on public sector adversely affect the Indian economy ?

Note : The following questions are for the Visually Impaired Candidates only, in lieu of Question No. 20:

(20.1) Distinguish between the public sector and the private sector with the help of at least one example each.

(20.2) Keeping in mind the Indian context, which type of economy would you prefer and why ?

(20.3) Globalisation has promoted which type of economic sector ?

Ans.

i) Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru

ii) A big tilt towards the public sector has been shown because the state controlled key heavy industries, provided industrial infrastructure, regulated trade and made some crucial interventions in agriculture.

iii) a) The state intervened only in those areas where the private sector was not prepared to go. Thus the state helped the private sector to make profit.

b) Also, instead of helping the poor, the state intervention ended up creating a new 'middle class' that enjoyed the privileges of high salaries without much accountability

c) The state controlled more things than were necessary and this led to inefficiency and corruption.

Q23.	Examine the U.S. hegemony as a structural power. OR Assess the role of ASEAN as an economic association.
Ans.	The US Hegemony as a structural power (i) Hegemony as a structural power is the role played by the US in the world economy and existence in providing global public goods – such as the sea lanes of communication (SLOCs) (ii) The naval power of the hegemony is another reason for its structural power. (iii) The internet is the direct outcome of a US military research project that began in 1950. Even today, the Internet relies on a global network of satellites, most of which are owned by the US government. (iv) The US is present in all parts of the world, in all sectors of the world economy and in all areas of technology. (v) The US share of the world economy remains an enormous 28 per cent. The US also accounts for 15 per cent of world trade. There is not a single sector of the world economy in which an American firm does not feature in the “top three” lists. (vi) It is important to remember that the economic preponderance of the US is inseparable from its structural power, which is the power to shape the global economy in a particular way. (vii) A classic example of the structural power of the US is the academic degree called the Master’s in Business Administration (MBA). The first business school in the world was established in 1881. Today, there is no country in the world in which the MBA is not a prestigious academic degree. Or any other relevant point. (any six points)	6x1=6

	OR Role of ASEAN as an economic association i) The economy of ASEAN region is growing much faster than that of the US, EU and Japan. This accounts for the growth in its influence both in the region and beyond. ii) ASEAN is trying to create a common market and production base within the ASEAN states and to aid social and economic development in the region. iii) A mechanism is being evolved to settle and resolve the economic disputes. ASEAN has focused on creating a Free Trade Area for investment, labour and services. iv) ASEAN is rapidly growing into a very important regional organization. It's vision 2020 defined an outward looking role for ASEAN in the international community. v) The current economic strength of ASEAN is being a trading and investment partner to the growing Asian economies such as India and China makes its an attractive proposition. vi) ASEAN's strength, however, lies in its policies of interaction and consultation with member states, with dialogue partners, and with other non-regional organisations. Q24.	Mention the six principal organs of the United Nations and describe the function of any two of them. OR Describe the security challenges faced by the newly independent countries of Asia and Africa after the Second World War.
Ans.	Six principal organs of the United Nations: (i) General Assembly (ii) Security Council (iii) International Court of Justice (iv) Secretariat (v) Economic and Social Council (vi) Trusteeship Council Functions of General Assembly:- i) It elects the members for the other structures and agencies of the UN. ii) Deliberations and discussions over major international issues. ii) It takes all major decisions related to member nations. (any two functions) Functions of Security Council:- i) To prevent international conflicts and limit the extend of hostilities. ii) To facilitate cooperation among states. iii) To improve the prospects of social and economical development in the world. (any two functions) (or explanation of any two of the remaining organs) OR The security challenges facing the newly-independent countries of Asia and Africa after the Second World War	2+2+2=6

	(i) The newly independent countries faced the prospect of military conflict with neighbouring countries. (ii) They had to worry about internal military conflict. These countries faced threats not only from outside their borders, mostly from neighbours, but also from within. (iii) Many newly independent countries came to fear their neighbours even more than they feared the US or the Soviet Union or the former colonial powers. They quarrelled over borders and territories or control of people and populations or all of these simultaneously. (iv) Internally, the new states were worried about threats from separatist movements which wanted to form independent countries. Sometimes, the external and internal threats merged. (v) A neighbour might help or instigate an internal separatist movement leading to tensions between the two neighbouring countries. (vi) Internal wars now make up more than 95 per cent of all armed conflicts fought anywhere in the world. (vii) Between 1946 and 1991, there was a twelve-fold rise in the number of civil wars—the greatest jump in 200 years. So, for the new states, external wars with neighbours and internal wars posed a serious challenge to their security. (any six challenges)	6x1=6
Q25.	Do you agree with the statement that “the foreign policy of independent India has pursued the dream of a peaceful world” ? Support your answer with any three suitable arguments. OR Give any three suitable arguments in favour of “India being a staunch supporter of the decolonization process and in firm opposition to racialism”.
Ans.	Yes, we agree with the statement. Suitable arguments for this are:- (i) The foreign policy of independent India vigorously pursued the dream of a peaceful world by advocating the policy of non-alignment, by reducing the Cold War confederation and by contributing human resources to the UN peacekeeping operations. (ii) India did not join either of the two camps during the Cold War era. India wanted to keep distance from the military alliances led by US and by the Soviet Union against each other. (iii) During the Cold War, the US-led North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO) and the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact came into existence. India advocated Non-alignment as the ideal foreign policy approach. This was a difficult balancing act and sometimes the balance did not appear perfect. (iv) In 1956 when Britain attacked Egypt over the Suez Canal issue, India led the world protest against this neo-colonial invasion. In the same year, when the USSR invaded Hungary, India did not join its public condemnation. Despite such situation, by and large India did take an independent stand on various international issues. (any three points) OR Supporting arguments:- (i) Under the leadership of Nehru India convened the Asian Relation Conference in March 1947. India was a staunch supporter of the decolonization process and firmly opposed racism especially apartheid in South Africa. (ii) India made earnest efforts for the early realization of an international conference in	3x2=6

	1949 to support its freedom struggle. (iii) The Afro – Asian Conference held in the Indonesian city of Bandung in 1955, commonly known as Bandung Conference, marked the zenith of India’s engagement with newly independent Asian and African nations. The Bandung Conference later led to the establishment of the NAM. Or any other relevant point	3x2=6
Q26.	Highlight the acts of dissent and resistance to the Emergency imposed in 1975. In your opinion, how did these acts affect the public opinion ? OR Analyse the issue ‘Indira vs the Syndicate’. What type of challenges did the issue pose before Indira Gandhi ?
Ans.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acts of dissent and resistance to the Emergency imposed in 1975:- (i) Many political workers who were not arrested in the first wave, went ‘underground’ and organised protests against the government. (ii) Newspapers like the Indian Express and the Statesman protested against censorship by leaving blank spaces where news items had been censored. Magazines like the Seminar and the Mainstream chose to close down rather than submit to censorship. (iii) Many journalists were arrested for writing against the Emergency. Many underground newsletters and leaflets were published to bypass censorship. (iv) Kannada writer Shivarama Karanth, awarded with Padma Bhushan, and Hindi writer Fanishwarnath Renu, awarded with Padma Shri, returned their awards in protest against the suspension of democracy. (v) The Parliament also brought in many new changes to the Constitution. (ii) It has involved greater trade in commodities across the globe; the restrictions	4x1=4

	imposed by different countries on allowing the imports of other countries have been reduced. Similarly, the restrictions on movement of capital across countries has also been reduced. (iii) Globalization has led to the flow of ideas across national boundaries; spread of internet and computer related services is an example. (iv) Economic globalization has created an intense division of opinion all over the world. Socialist concern is likely to benefit only a small section of population while impoverishing jobless people. (v) Globalization generates greater economic growth and well being for larger sections of the population when there is deregulation. Greater trade among countries allows each economy to do what it does best. (any four consequences)
Q14.	What distinguished the dominance of the Congress Party in India from the one-party dominance in other countries ? Explain.
Ans.	The dominance of the Congress Party in India is distinguished from the other countries in the following ways:- i) In India, democracy was not compromised by dominance of one party. ii) In India, multiparty system prevailed where as in other countries like China and Russia dominance of one party was due to one party system only. iii) In India, there was no military interference like the same in Myanmar and Egypt. iv) In India, dominance of the one party (Congress) was due to its own popularity which managed it to win elections after elections.	4x1=4
Q. 15.	Examine the dramatic changes that took place in the party system in India during 1969 to 1977.
Ans.	The dramatic changes that took place in the party system in India during 1969 to 1977 are as follows:- (i) The factional rivalry between the Syndicate and Indira Gandhi came in the open in 1969 during Presidential election. She projected to split as an ideological divide between socialist and conservative factions of the congress party. (ii) The Congress party now identified itself with a particular ideology, claiming to be the only socialist and pro-poor party. (iii) Since 1969, the Congress party had started shedding its character as an umbrella party which accommodated leaders and workers of different ideological dispensations and view points. (iv) With the change in the nature of the Congress party, other opposition parties relied more and more on what is known in Indian politics as ‘non-Congressism’. They also realised the need to avoid a division of non-Congress votes in the election. Or any other relevant point.	4x1=4
Q 16.	Highlight any four consequences of the partition of India in 1947.
Ans.	Consequences of partition of India in 1947:-

	(i) The Year 1947 was the year of one of the largest, most abrupt, unplanned and tragic transfer of population that human history has known. (ii) There were killings and atrocities in the name of religion on both the sides. (iii) Thousands of women were abducted. (iv) People were forced to abandon their homes and move across the border. (v) Women were killed by their own family members to preserve family honour. (vi) All the intellectuals in various fields expressed their grief and anger. (vii) Minorities on both sides of border, fled their homes and secured temporary shelter in refugee camps. (Any four points)	4x1=4
Q 17.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: Critics of popular movement often argue that collective actions like strikes, sit-ins and rallies disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision-making and destabilise the routines of democracy. Such an argument invites a deeper question: why do these movements resort to such assertive forms of action ? We have seen that popular movements have raised legitimate demands of the people and have involved large scale participation of citizens. It should be noted that the groups mobilised by these movements are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society from marginal social groups. (i) Popular movements resort to which two types of assertive actions ? (ii) How far do you agree with the arguments given by the critics? (iii) Why are groups involved in popular movements mostly from marginal social groups ?
Ans.	i) Strikes, sit-ins, rallies and protests (any two) ii) These assertive actions disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision making and destabilise the routines of democracy. OR They involve a gradual process of coming together of people with similar problems, similar demands and similar expectations. iii) Marginal social groups who may be adversely affected by these policies get less and less attention from political parties as well as the media because they are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society.	1+2+2
Q 18.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: The smaller states in the alliances used the link to the superpowers for their own purposes. They got the promise of protection, weapons and economic aid against their local rivals, mostly regional neighbours with whom they had rivalries. The threatened to divide the entire world into two camps. This division happened first in Europe. Most countries of Western Europe sided with the US and those of Eastern Europe joined the Soviet camp. That is why, these were also called the 'western' and the 'eastern' alliances. (i) Name one organization each related to the 'western' and the 'eastern' alliances. (ii) Why were the smaller states interested in joining the super alliances? (iii) How did the 'alliance system' threaten to divide the world ?

Ans.	i) Organisation related to western alliances:- NATO Organisation related to eastern alliances:- Warsaw Pact ii) a) The smaller states in the alliances used the link to the superpowers to fulfil their own purposes. b) They got the promise of protection, weapons, and economic aid against their local rivals, mostly regional neighbours with whom they had rivalries. iii) Most countries of western Europe sided with the US and those of eastern Europe joined the Soviet camp. Q 19.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: The lack of genuine international support for democratic rule in Pakistan has further encouraged the military to continue its dominance. The United States and other Western countries have encouraged the military's authoritarian rule in the past, for their own reasons. Given their fear of the threat of what they call 'global Islamic terrorism' and the apprehension that Pakistan's nuclear arsenal might fall into the hands of these terrorist groups, the military regime in Pakistan has been seen as the protector of Western interests in West Asia and South Asia. (i) What is meant by 'global Islamic terrorism' ? (ii) Why did Pakistan lack genuine international support for democratic rule ? (iii) Why was the military regime in Pakistan considered as the protector of Western interests in West Asia and South Asia ?
Ans.	(i) Global Islamic Terrorism is defined as a fear of threat by Islamic outfits funded by various Islamic Nations. (ii) The lack of genuine international support for democratic rule in Pakistan has further encouraged the military to continue its dominance. The United States and other Western countries have encouraged the military's authoritarian rule in the past, for their own reasons. (iii) There was apprehension that Pakistan's nuclear weapons might not go into the hands of the terrorist groups. Q 20.	Study the cartoon given below carefully and answer the questions that follow:

- (i) Identify and name the person who is holding the balancing beam between the public sector and the private sector.
- (ii) Why has a big tilt towards the public sector been shown in the cartoon?
- (iii) How did the over-emphasis on public sector adversely affect the Indian economy ?

Note : The following questions are for the Visually Impaired Candidates only, in lieu of Question No. 20:

(20.1) Distinguish between the public sector and the private sector with the help of at least one example each.

(20.2) Keeping in mind the Indian context, which type of economy would you prefer and why ?

(20.3) Globalisation has promoted which type of economic sector ?

Ans.

i) Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru

ii) A big tilt towards the public sector has been shown because the state controlled key heavy industries, provided industrial infrastructure, regulated trade and made some crucial interventions in agriculture.

iii) a) The state intervened only in those areas where the private sector was not prepared to go. Thus the state helped the private sector to make profit.

b) Also, instead of helping the poor, the state intervention ended up creating a new 'middle class' that enjoyed the privileges of high salaries without much accountability

c) The state controlled more things than were necessary and this led to inefficiency and corruption.

Q 20 for blind candidates:-

Public Sector	Private Sector
1. Resources are controlled, owned and supervised by the government. 2. It is planned and organised	1. Resources are controlled, owned and supervised by the individual, group of people or companies. 2. No government interference.
Eg. Key heavy industries like Iron and Steel industry	3. Eg. Bajaj Auto Ltd.

20.2 India deserves mixed economy to maintain the balance between agriculture, trade and industries managed by private hand and state controlled key heavy industries.

20.3 Globalisation has promoted private sector due to its policy of liberalization and privatization.

Q22.	Describe any three areas of tension which are yet to be solved to retain unity in diversity in India. OR Describe any three elements of growing consensus among most of the political parties of India after 1989.
Ans.	Three areas of tension are:- i) Jammu & Kashmir- insurgency, separatism, terrorism etc. ii) North-East states – demand for autonomy, secessionist movements iii) Demand for the formation of states based on linguistic and regionalism in different parts of India. Or any other relevant point. (any three points to be explained) OR Elements of growing consensus (i) Agreement on new economic policies : Most parties were in support of the new economic policies and believed that these policies would lead the country to prosperity and a status of economic power in the world. (ii) Acceptance of the political and social claims of the backward castes : Political parties had recognized that the social and political claims of the Backward Castes need to be accepted and support reservation of seats for OBC in education and employment. (iii) Acceptance of the role of State level parties in governance of the country: State level parties were sharing power at the national level and had played a central role in the country’s politics. (iv) Emphasis on pragmatic considerations rather than ideological positions and political alliances without ideological agreement as most parties of the NDA did not agree with the ‘Hindutava’ ideology of the BJP. Yet, they came together to form a government and remained in power for a full term. (any three)	3x2=6 3x2=6
Q23.	“Resistance is the only option available to overcome the U.S. hegemony.” Justify the statement by comparing it to other anti-hegemony strategies. OR “Nepal and India enjoy a very special relationship that has very few parallels in the world.” Justify the statement with any three suitable arguments.
Ans.	Justification of the given statement i) Some people believe that resistance to the US hegemony is the only solution. But states who are unable to face the hegemony are powerless to confront the US today. ii) Challenges to the US hegemony will emerge in the economic and cultural realms and will come from a combination of non-governmental organization, social movements and public opinion. iii) Resistance may arise from sections of media and intellectuals, artists, and writers across national boundaries, including with Americans, to criticise and resist the US policies.	6

	iv) The best way to resist hegemony is to work with rather than against the hegemony. So, instead of engaging in activities opposed to hegemonic power, it may be advisable to extract benefits by operating within the hegemonic system i.e. 'Bandwagon'-strategy. v) Another strategy implies staying away from the dominant power as far as possible i. e. 'Hide' strategy. All the big powers like China, Russia, the European Union are seeking to stay below the radar but this cannot go on for a long time. vi) A military coalition against the US is even less likely given the differences that exist among big countries like China, India, and Russia, that have the potential to challenge US hegemony. All these together can be successful in resisting the US hegemony. OR Nepal and India enjoy a very special relationship that has very few parallels in the world:- (i) A treaty between the two countries allows the citizens of the two countries to travel to and work in the other country, without visas and passports. (ii) Nevertheless, Indo-Nepal relations are fairly stable and peaceful. Despite the the differences; the trade, scientific cooperation, common natural resources, electricity generation and interlocking water management grids hold the two countries together. (iii) There is a hope that the consolidation of democracy in Nepal will lead to improvement in the ties between the two countries.	3x2=6

Ans.	The dominance of the Congress Party in India is distinguished from the other countries in the following ways:- i) In India, democracy was not compromised by dominance of one party. ii) In India, multiparty system prevailed where as in other countries like China and Russia dominance of one party was due to one party system only. iii) In India, there was no military interference like the same in Myanmar and Egypt. iv) In India, dominance of the one party (Congress) was due to its own popularity which managed it to win elections after elections.	4x1=4
Q 17.	Study the cartoon given below carefully and answer the questions that follow:
	(i) Identify and name the person who is holding the balancing beam between the public sector and the private sector. (ii) Why has a big tilt towards the public sector been shown in the cartoon? (iii) How did the over-emphasis on public sector adversely affect the Indian economy ? Note : The following questions are for the Visually Impaired Candidates only, in lieu of Question No. 17: (17.1) Distinguish between the public sector and the private sector with the help of at least one example each. (17.2) Keeping in mind the Indian context, which type of economy would you prefer and why ? (17.3) Globalisation has promoted which type of economic sector ?
Ans.	i) Pt. Jawaharlal Nehru

ii) A big tilt towards the public sector has been shown because the state controlled key heavy industries, provided industrial infrastructure, regulated trade and made some crucial interventions in agriculture.

iii) a) The state intervened only in those areas where the private sector was not prepared to go. Thus the state helped the private sector to make profit.

b) Also, instead of helping the poor, the state intervention ended up creating a new 'middle class' that enjoyed the privileges of high salaries without much accountability

c) The state controlled more things than were necessary and this led to inefficiency and corruption.

Q 18. Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow:

Critics of popular movement often argue that collective actions like strikes, sit-ins and rallies disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision-making and destabilise the routines of democracy. Such an argument invites a deeper question: why do these movements resort to such assertive forms of action ? We have seen that popular movements have raised legitimate demands of the people and have involved large scale participation of citizens. It should be noted that the groups mobilised by these movements are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society from marginal social groups.

(i) Popular movements resort to which two types of assertive actions ?

(ii) How far do you agree with the arguments given by the critics?

	(iii) Why are groups involved in popular movements mostly from marginal social groups ?
Ans.	i) Strikes, sit-ins, rallies and protests (any two) ii) These assertive actions disrupt the functioning of the government, delay decision making and destabilise the routines of democracy. OR They involve a gradual process of coming together of people with similar problems, similar demands and similar expectations. iii) Marginal social groups who may be adversely affected by these policies get less and less attention from political parties as well as the media because they are poor, socially and economically disadvantaged sections of the society.	1+2+2
Q 19.	Study the following passage carefully and answer the questions that follow: The smaller states in the alliances used the link to the superpowers for their own purposes. They got the promise of protection, weapons and economic aid against their local rivals, mostly regional neighbours with whom they had rivalries. The threatened to divide the entire world into two camps. This division happened first in Europe. Most countries of Western Europe sided with the US and those of Eastern Europe joined the Soviet camp. That is why, these were also called the 'western' and the 'eastern' alliances. (i) Name one organization each related to the 'western' and the 'eastern' alliances. In your opinion, how did these acts affect the public opinion ? OR Analyse the issue 'Indira vs the Syndicate'. What type of challenges did the issue pose before Indira Gandhi ?
Ans.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Acts of dissent and resistance to the Emergency imposed in 1975:- (i) Many political workers who were not arrested in the first wave, went 'underground' and organised protests against the government. (ii) Newspapers like the Indian Express and the Statesman protested against censorship by leaving blank spaces where news items had been censored. Magazines like the Seminar and the Mainstream chose to close down rather than submit to censorship. (iii) Many journalists were arrested for writing against the Emergency. Many underground newsletters and leaflets were published to bypass censorship. (iv) Kannada writer Shivarama Karanth, awarded with Padma Bhushan, and Hindi writer Fanishwarnath Renu, awarded with Padma Shri, returned their awards in protest against the suspension of democracy. (v) The Parliament also brought in many new changes to the Constitution. Support your answer with any three suitable arguments. OR Give any three suitable arguments in favour of “India being a staunch supporter of the decolonization process and in firm opposition to racialism”.
Ans.	Yes, we agree with the statement. Suitable arguments for this are:- (i) The foreign policy of independent India vigorously pursued the dream of a peaceful world by advocating the policy of non-alignment, by reducing the Cold War confederation and by contributing human resources to the UN peacekeeping operations. (ii) India did not join either of the two camps during the Cold War era. India wanted to keep distance from the military alliances led by US and by the Soviet Union against each other. (iii) During the Cold War, the US-led North Atlantic Treaty Organisation (NATO) and the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact came into existence. India advocated Non-alignment as the ideal foreign policy approach. This was a difficult balancing act and sometimes the balance did not appear perfect. (iv) In 1956 when Britain attacked Egypt over the Suez Canal issue, India led the world protest against this neo-colonial invasion. In the same year, when the USSR invaded Hungary, India did not join its public condemnation. Despite such situation, by and large India did take an independent stand on various international issues. (any three points) OR Supporting arguments:- (i) Under the leadership of Nehru India convened the Asian Relation Conference in March 1947. India was a staunch supporter of the decolonization process and firmly opposed racism especially apartheid in South Africa. (ii) India made earnest efforts for the early realization of an international conference in 1949 to support its freedom struggle. (iii) The Afro – Asian Conference held in the Indonesian city of Bandung in 1955, commonly known as Bandung Conference, marked the zenith of India’s engagement with newly independent Asian and African nations.
