6 - 9: Read the lines from the poem 'Taj Mahal' and answer the questions that follow. (4 × 1 = 4)

You knew, Emperor of India, Shah Jahan,
That life, youth, wealth, renown
All float away down the stream of time.
Your only dream
Was to preserve forever your heart's pain.
The harsh thunder of imperial power
Would fade into sleep
Like a sunset's crimson splendour,
But it was your hope
That at least a single, eternally-heaved sigh would stay
To grieve the sky.

6. What is imperial power compared to ?
7. Pick out an auditory image from the lines?
8. What are the things that would float away down the stream of time ?
9. 'Your only dream

Was to preserve forever your heart's pain.'

10 - 14. Read the following passage and answer the questions that follow. (5 × 3 = 15)

There lived a carpenter with years of experience. He decided to retire and to live a more leisurely retired life with his wife and family. He told his contractor about his decision to retire from his job. The contractor felt a little upset that his good and experienced carpenter was leaving the job, but he requested the carpenter to build just one more house for him.

The carpenter agreed with the contractor but his heart was not in his work as it used to be. He resorted to cheap workmanship and used inferior materials for building the last house of his career. It was an unfortunate way to end his career. When the carpenter completed the house the employer came to see it. He looked around the house and then handed the front door key to the carpenter. 'This is your house, my gift to you'. The carpenter was surprised. But he was not feeling good as he felt a deep shame inside him. If he had only known he was building his own house, he would have done it all so differently. Now he had to live in the home that wasn't build that well !

10. Why did the carpenter want to retire ?
11. What was the contractor's request ?
12. How did he build the last house ?
13. Was the carpenter happy to receive the house as a gift . Why?
14. Give a suitable title to the passage.
