- Satyajith Ray faced a lot of difficulties while shooting his film. Narrate the incidents in your own words.

Ans) Satyajit Ray faced a lot of difficulties while shooting the film 'Goopy Gyne Bagha Byne'. The shooting was in a suitable bamboo grove in Notun Gram. A lorry with two well fed tigers arrived. The crew placed the tripod facing the bamboo grove and the actors were arranged in such a way that they could be showed along with the tiger. A five foot iron rod was fixed to the ground and a long wire at one end of the collar of the tiger was tied to it. When the door opened the tiger sprang out of its cage.

Instead of walking calmly it started prancing around with tremendous enthusiasm as if in a circus. After sometime when the tiger became calm, the remaining shots were taken. Later it was found that the shots didn't come alright because the camera had failed to work properly. The scenes had to be shot again. Another bamboo grove in a village called Boxal was found and a lorry with a tiger arrived there.

A lot of people came to watch the shooting and the crowd was not ready to move from their position. When the door of the cage was opened the tiger emerged with a loud roar and charged straight at the villagers. All disappeared from the scene. The shots were taken again when the tiger became normal again.
