What an unexpected coincidence! Never expected the doctor on board the ship. Was highly embarrassed to face him. Wife encouraged me. He couldn't recognize me from my visiting card. Told him the purpose of our voyage. When he knew that I was working as the director of a charitable organization devoted to the care of boys and girls from the slums, who had fallen under the ban of the law he began to look at me interestingly. But, he didn't seem to recognise me. Then I told something in his ear. He gazed on my face for a few moments. I knew he could recall everything about me. There was a long silence. Understanding my feelings, wife took me to our cabin. We thanked him again and again. An unforgettable meeting.
