

Write the thoughts of Adichie when she realised what single story her room mate had about Africa and Africans.

Ans:- My roommate had a single story of Africa. In this single story she couldn't imagine that anybody in Africa could be like her in anyway. I got an identity of an African. To people like her Africa was a place of beautiful landscapes, animals and comprehensible people. But I thought its bad to differentiate in the name of a country.