Questions 1 to 5: Read the following passage and answer the questions given.

I answered quickly; maybe there was a chance. 'It means you've earned it by having the highest grades for eight years and that's why they're giving it to you.' Too late I realized the significance of my words.

Grandpa knew that I understood it was not a matter of money. It wasn't that. He went back to hoeing the weeds that sprang up between the delicate little bean plants. It was a time-consuming job; sometimes the small shoots were right next to each other. Finally he spoke again as I turned to leave, crying, 'Then if you pay for it, Martha, it's not a scholarship jacket, is it? Tell your principal I will not pay the fifteen dollars.'

I walked back to the house and locked myself in the bathroom for a long time. I was angry with Grandfather even though I knew he was right, and I was angry with the Board, whoever they were. Why did they have to change the rules just when it was my turn to win the jacket?

The old priest Peter Gilligan Was weary night and day For half his flock were in their beds Or under green sods lay.

Once, while he nodded in a chair
At the moth-hour of the eve Another poor man sent for him, And he began to grieve.

'I have no rest, nor joy, nor peace,

For people die and die;
And after cried he, 'God forgive!
My body spake not I!'

Question 10 : Read the following lines from the poem 'Poetry' carefully.

I did not know what to say, my mouth had no way
with names,
my eyes were blind,
and something started in my soul, fever or forgotten wings, and I made my own way, deciphering
that fire,
and I wrote the first faint line, faint, without substance, pure nonsense,
pure wisdom
of someone who knows nothing, and suddenly I saw the heavens unfastened and open,
planets,
palpitating plantations,
shadow perforated,
riddled with arrows, fire and flowers, the winding night, the universe.

A guru got a flash of vision about what he would be in his next birth. Immediately, he called his favourite disciple* and asked him what he would do for his guru in return for all he had received. The disciple said he would do whatever his guru asked him to do. Having received this promise, the guru said, "Then this is what I'd like you to do for me. I've learned that I'm going to be reborn as a cat after my death. Do you see the cat there? I'm going to be reborn as its fourth kitten. You'll recognise me by a mark on my brow. The disciple was sad to hear all this. Yet he agreed to do so. Soon after this conversation, the guru died. And the cat gave birth to four little kittens. One day, the disciple sharpened his knife and picked out the fourth little kitten, which had a mark on its brow. Just as he was about to bring down his knife, the little kitten suddenly spoke, "Stop! Don't kill me!" it screamed. Before the disciple could recover from the shock of hearing the little kitten speak in a human voice, it said again, "Don't kill me. I want to live on as a cat.
