Dear Rahul,

How are you Rahul? Hope you are enjoying your vacation. During this vacation, I am with my grandparents. I've lots of fun here. In my grandpa's English model garden, there is a huge banyan tree. There are many squirrels and birds in it. Recently I got a new friend here. Do you know who the new friend is? A cute squirrel!

In the beginning he was a little scared of me. But now he is very friendly and familiar even to take food from my hands. I've built a platform half-way up the banyan tree, and I enjoy sitting there reading books and seeing sights.

A few days ago, my grandpa brought home a white rat, which he bought from the bazaar. I often take it with me to the tree. Soon it made a friendship with one of the squirrels there. Meanwhile a strange thing happened. In a hole in the tree, we found three white squirrel babies. Grandpa says that the white rat will be their father.

I invite you to come here. We can spend some time in the banyan tree. You may come with your sister and parents. They will also be happy to see my new friends. Convey my regards to all at home. Hope to see you soon.

Yours lovingly,
Sd/
Ravi.

Friendly Letter - Snake And The Mirror

The doctor's letter to his mother about his horrible experiences.

Dear Mom

How are you Mom? Hope you and dad are happy and doing well. I'm writing this letter in an excitement of a second life. You know why? Last night a strange thing happened. A huge cobra fell down from the roof and slithered to the chair on which I was sitting. Then it coiled round my left arm. There are lots of rats in my room. So I did not take it serious when I heard the sound of something falling down. Spreading its hood, it stayed on my left arm just three or four inches away from my face. It was like death lurked three or four inches away Holding my breath I sat like a stone image. If I moved, the snake would bite me I had no medicine in my room. If it had truck me, it would have been my end.

Desperately I thought of God and prayed in silence. Then the snake turned its head and looked into a mirror on my table. Seeing its reflection in the mirror, it left me and moved towards the mirror and stayed in front of it as if it was enjoying its own beauty. I took this chance to escape. I quietly jumped out of the room and ran till I reached my friend's house.

Mom, don't worry about me reading this letter. Now I am safe here at my friends house. I'll soon come to see you. Convey my regards to dad and all others.

Your lovingly,
Sd/
