EDUCATION

No doubt, education forms an essential part of our civilization. It brings an all-round development of head, heart and hands. It makes a person’s life worth living and worthy of admiration. As fragrance tells the quality of different flowers, it is the education which tells the quality of a person’s life. Education is very deeply related to youth. It is the period when the teenagers or the young children aspire to accomplish the greatest deeds.

Since youth is the spring time of life, children like to blossom in their knowledge, wisdom and character. A person who is devoid of education is no better than an animal. He becomes a liability and a burden to his family as well as to the society. It is a pity that the true value of education has not been understood in such a big democratic country as India. Our country has not achieved even 100 percent literacy. Moreover, the knowledge of 3 R’s is not enough in the advanced modern world. Education does not mean bookish knowledge, nor it means superficial success at an examination. In reality, education is a continuous process which develops the body, nourishes the mind, sublimates the emotions and regenerates the spirit.

The process of learning may very well be compared to the undertaking of a journey. The learner of the student is the journey-taker or traveler. Just as a traveller has to undergo all the troubles of buying his ticket, booking his luggage, boarding a train or steamer, engaging a cab or car, and suffering every item of a tedious journey to reach his destination, so a learner has to manage his learning affair himself. It is a laborious process, and no one else can do the labour for him , as no one else can do a journey for another. Just as a traveler may enquire here or enquire there, in case of doubt or difficulty, so can a student, take help or advice from guides or teachers, whenever in difficulty; but the journey is the passenger's own concern; so is the learning of the student.
