10.	The poem " A Prayer in Spring" by Robert Frost is a beautiful celebration of the joys and wonders of spring. The speaker prays for the simple pleasures of the season, asking for the ability to revel in the beauty of flowers and the white blossoms of orchards. The main theme of the poem is the beauty and joy of spring. The speaker asks for pleasure in the small things. such as the flowers, the orchards and the bees. The poem celebrates the wonder of nature and joy that it brings to our lives. The poem is full of beautiful and vivid images that evoke the sights and sounds of spring. The orchard blossoms are described as "white and "ghosts by night", which creates a haunting and ethereal image. The bees are described as " happy" and the swarm is "dilating round the perfect trees", which creates a sense of movement and life. The poem makes use of several poetic devices that enhance the imagery and overall effect of the poem. The repetition of the phrase "oh! give us pleasure" emphasizes the speaker's desire of simple joys. The use of alliteration in "swam dilating" creates a sense of motion and growth. The rhyme scheme of the poem (ab ab) creates a light and playful tone that suits the joyful theme. Overall, " A Prayer in Spring" is a beautiful poem that celebrates the beauty and job of the season.
