Activity 2: Diary Entry

Key Points for the Diary Entry:

- Mention inspiration from nature, e.g., the setting sun, rivers, and moonlight.
- Reflect on feelings of calmness and admiration for the beauty of the evening.
- Express joy in using poetic devices to bring the scene alive.

Sample Answer:

Today, I felt inspired by the beauty of the evening as I watched the sun set in a crimson glow. The gentle breeze and the whispering rivers reminded me of nature's tranquil rhythm. Writing this poem allowed me to capture the magical transition from day to night. The stars and moonlight felt like they were weaving dreams into the sky. I am grateful to find such peace in nature and hope my words bring the same calmness to others.

Activity 3: Profile Writing

Model Answer:

William Blake was born in 1757 in London, England. He was a renowned poet, painter, and engraver. His major works include Songs of Innocence and of Experience, The Tyger, and The Lamb.
