When her husband came from work, she told him, "Here are the Christmas cards for our friends. Here are the stamps, a pen, and our book of addresses. Will you please write down the addresses while I cook dinner? And please don't forget to post them tomorrow on your way to the office."

John didn't say anything. He went in. Rachel was a little angry with him, but she kept quiet. After a while, John was back with a bundle of Christmas cards. All of them were addressed and stamped. "These are the greeting cards we bought last year," he said. "I forgot to post them."
