(Questions 1 - 5) Read the excerpt from 'The Best Investment I Ever Made' and answer the questions that follow.

5x1=5

As he regained his strength, he told us his story. His parents were dead. An uncle had found him a position as clerk in a London solicitor's office. He had been in the city only six months. Utterly friendless, he had fallen victim to the loose society of the streets, had made bad companions and like a young fool, eager to taste pleasure far beyond his means, had begun to bet on horses. Soon he had lost all his small savings, had pledged his belongings and owed the book-maker a disastrous amount. In an effort to recoup, he had taken a sum of money from the office safe for a final gamble that, he was assured, was certain to win. But this last resort had failed. Terrified of the prosecution that must follow, sick at heart, sunk in despair, he had shut himself in his room and turned on the gas.

A long bar of silence throbbed in the little attic when he concluded this halting confession. Then, gruffly, the sergeant asked how much he had stolen. Seven pounds ten shillings - the answer sounded pitiful. For this paltry sum he had almost thrown away his life. There was a pause. The three of us, the sergeant, the landlady and me, as the sole witnesses of the near tragedy, had the same unspoken thought in our minds. We decided to give the young man a fresh start.

1. Where was Mr. John employed ?
2. How did Mr. John end up losing all his savings and belongings ?
3. Why did Mr. John feel compelled to attempt ending his life ?
4. Which word in the passage means 'spoken in a low, unfriendly tone' ?
(A) pitiful (B) halting (C) gruffly (D) pledge
5. What common thought arose in the minds of the witnesses after hearing Mr. John's story ?
(A) To demand that he repay the stolen money immediately
(B) To punish him for his actions
(C) To give him a second chance and help him rebuild his life
(D) To inform the solicitor

(Questions 6 - 9) Read the lines from 'Lines written in Early Spring' and answer the questions given below. 4x1=4

I heard a thousand blended notes,
While in a grove I sate reclined,
In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts
Bring sad thoughts to the mind.

To her fair works did Nature link
The human soul that through me ran;
And much it grieved my heart to think
What man has made of man.

6. What specific thought brought sorrow to the poet's heart ?
7. Which literary device is used in the line 'I heard a thousand blended notes' ?
(A) personification (B) hyperbole
(C) metaphor (D) alliteration
8. How did Nature establish a connection with the poet's soul ?
9. Identify the rhyme scheme followed in the lines above.

10. Read the lines from 'The Ballad of Father Gilligan' and prepare a note of appreciation focussing on the theme, images, and other poetic devices. 5

The old priest Peter Gilligan
Was weary night and day
For half his flock were in their beds
Or under green sods lay.

Once, while he nodded in a chair
At the moth-hour of the eve
Another poor man sent for him,
And he began to grieve.

(Questions 11 - 15) Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow. 5x1=5

Have you ever wondered about the amazing fruits that grow around the world? Some of them are so unique that they feel like nature's little treasures. Take the Durian, for example. Known as the "king of fruits," it has a strong, unusual smell, but don't let that stop you! Inside, it is creamy and sweet, packed with vitamins to boost your immune system. What about the Cherimoya from South America? This soft and creamy fruit tastes like a mix of banana and pineapple. It's rich in fibre and antioxidants, making it great for digestion. Have you seen the Rambutan from Malaysia? It looks like a little red ball covered in hair, but inside, it has sweet and juicy flesh. It's full of vitamins and iron, perfect for healthy skin.

In Asia, there's the Mangosteen, called the "queen of fruits." Its soft, white flesh is both tangy and sweet, and it's loaded with antioxidants and vitamins. From Africa comes the Baobab fruit. During the rainy season, the Baobab tree absorbs and stores water in its vast trunk, enabling it to produce a nutrient-dense fruit in the dry season. This is how it became known as "The Tree of Life".

11. Why is the Cherimoya fruit considered good for digestion?
- (A) It is rich in fibre and antioxidants.
(B) It has a creamy texture.
(C) It is sweet like pineapple and banana.
(D) It is soft and juicy.
12. Which sentence in the passage describes an uncommon characteristic of the "king of fruits"?

13. Why is the Baobab tree known as "The Tree of Life" ?
14. What is the taste of the "queen of fruits" ?
15. Which fruit is loaded with nutrients for a healthy skin ?
