SECTION—B

5. This question has two poems (a) and (b). Read them carefully and answer the questions at the end of each poem in about 80-100 words each :

- (a) I found this jawbone at the sea's edge :

There crabs, dogfish, broken by the breakers or tossed
To flap for half an hour and turn to a crust,
Continue the beginning. The deeps are cold :
In that darkness, camaraderie does not hold :
Nothing touches, but clutching, devours. And the jaws
Before they are satisfied or their stretched purpose
Slacken, go down; go grawn bare. Jaws
Eat and are finished and the jawbone comes to the beach.

This is the sea's achievement : with shells,
Vertebrae, claws, carapaces, skulls.

Time in the sea eats its tail, thrives,
Casts these indigestibles, the spars of purpose
That failed far from the surface. None grow rich
In the sea. This curved jawbone did not laugh
But gripped, gripped, and is now a cenotaph

- (i) Explain these lines :
- (a) To flap for half an hour and turn to a crust,
Continue the beginning.
- (b) Nothing touches, but clutching, devours. 5
- (ii) Explain these lines :

eats its tail". 5
- (iv) What poetic effect is gained by the use of halfrhymes in this poem ? 5
- (v) Critically comment on the language of the poem. 5
- (vi) What, according to the poet, is "the sea's achievement" ? 5

(b) "The first that died was little Jane;
In bed she moaning lay,
Till God released her of her pain,
And then she went away. 4

'So in the churchyard she was laid,
And all the summer dry,
Together round her grave we played,
My brother John and I. 8

'And when the ground was white with snow,
And I could run and slide,
My brother John was forced to go,
And he lies by her side. 12

'How many are you then, said I,
If they two are in heaven ?'
The little maiden did reply,
'O master ! we are seven.' 16

'But they are dead; those two are dead !
Their spirits are in heaven !'
Twas throwing words away; for still
The little maid would have her will, 20
And said, 'Nay, we are seven !'

- (i) What is the function of the modifier 'little' in line 1 ? 6
- (ii) What does the poet say about the materialist elements of the girl and the landscape ? 8
